What is the ACCSA?

The Assiniboine Community College Students' Association (ACCSA) is a not-for-profit organization. Our mission is to encourage student success by being the voice of our students while enhancing the student life experience through services, events and student support. We exist to serve you, our students, and work hard to ensure your ACC experience is the best it can be!

The vision of the ACCSA is to create an environment for students to excel. In order to achieve these objectives, the ACCSA strives to:

- Represent the student community with one voice
- Support student needs and offer guidance
- Promote student success through teamwork and involvement
- Provide a unique student experience

The Role

The ACCSA is run by a team of elected council members and professional staff who work together to bring services, events and support to the ACC student body. We have a council in Brandon and Parkland. At our Parkland campus, we hold a General Council election to select 4 student representatives to bring forth different perspectives from throughout the college and engage the student body. These council members meet on a bi-weekly basis and work with college representatives on important initiatives that matter to you all while earning an honorarium and getting real, workplace experience!

The ACCSA is a great opportunity for you to get involved and make some key connections within your college community and the business community as well. Who could ask for a better, more flexible job than getting paid to represent your classmates on initiatives and events that matter to you?!
